Alley Apples Continue To Fly!

The following letters are published in the interest of our readers, who we trust will credit each according to its merits, then vote Friday, May 15 as his conscience dictates.

Mr. Neil Langlois, Editor,
Lakeside Star,
Lakeside, California
Dear Neil:

I have read in a letter to the Editor in a recent edition of the Lakeside Star, a list of several persons, including my own name, which persons assertedly had been contacted in arriving at the controversial opinions expressed. From such responsibility I hurriedly retire.

It would be easier for a medium to contact me in the great beyond than for anyone to secure from me in the flesh any opinion which would add to the flame now licking at the fountain head of our democracy, the local schools. Anyone stating otherwise is mistaken. If they enlarge on the assertion they will become libelous, and libel can be dealt with.

I was employed by the Lakeside Union School District to design Additions and Alterations to the Lakeside Union School. I consider the resultant school plant creditable to me and to the Board of Trustees. Any mistakes in the design should be evaluated in terms of the problem which was presented. In a spirit of charity we all know "that to err is human." What each of us must remember is that "to forgive, is divine."

I would sincerely urge, for the sake of the bright angels with dirty faces, who will populate the school for years to come at a cost of approximately sixteen cents per school day per pupil, that all hatchets be buried and we turn our endeavors to nobler ends.

Sincerely,
Sam W. Hamill.

ARE CHEAP BUILDINGS BEST?
By Tom Barkdull

Our opponents are attempting to make political hay by charging that our schools are expensive. Admittedly they have been. All facilities were built at the times they were needed and at the only times the funds were available; competitive bids were obtained and the contracts awarded at the best prices then obtainable. It is also true that some types of school construction, notably units which consist of classrooms only, such as those recently completed at Solano Beach, have been bid at a much lower figure than ours.

It is likewise true that a car costs more than a wheelbarrow. Cheap buildings like cheap cars are not necessarily best buys. Foolish, I think, would be the buyer who would select a wheelbarrow in preference to a car, particularly if the two were offered at the same price.

In the case of our building program, the cost of our local taxpayer would have been the same whether cheap temporary buildings had been erected or the excellent ones we now have. Had we built the temporary type, furthermore, the cost of upkeep, maintenance and replacement would have to be charged against our operating budget, much of which is raised from local taxes. Those who have recently inspected our new school plants will agree, I am sure, that they are excellent and that they were produced at minimum cost to the local taxpayers. Our Board of Trustees and School Administration, whose efforts produced these fine facilities, for our children, are entitled ,it seems to

EDITOR
Lakeside Star:

The writer would like the opportunity, first to express appreciation for the space allowed him in last week's Star, and second, to express a lack of appreciation for your display of Editorial bias in prefacing the articles of those with whom you do not agree, with adverse comment in a manner not usually associated with good American Journalism.

In my case you said that my letter was open to question. That is quite true and anyone is privileged to question it, however, I am happy to relieve your mind on the matter of authentic answers, I have them in the event you or others care to ask questions concerning the contents of my letter.

You protested by use of the word 'reported', now let me contribute to your education with a 'report' from Webster's on the word which is given the following definition (quote) "to give an account of; relate; circulate publicly; take down (spoken words) Unquote. Thus I am quite satisified that my use of the word 'reported' should not give rise to any question of inaccuracy in my letter.

I have 3 answers to your suggestion that I "interview Supt. Walker and get these facts." First, I already have the facts, which is the obvious reason why myself with a goodly portion of other taxpayers in the District, are no little disturbed, Second, I reserve the right to collect my facts in such manner as appeals to me as most productive, and third, too many people have already learned that Supt. Walker's answers are not necessarily informative.

I have no personal animosity as regards Supt. Walker, other

Sir:

I have recently made a thorough study of building costs in ours and other districts, and in the interest of accuracy should like to submit the following breakdown of these costs.

In arriving at these figures I have followed the county method of determining square foot costs in order to be able to fairly compare our costs with those in other districts. This method bases square foot cost on actual contractor bids and disregards cost of site development, surveys, architects fees, testing expenses, inspection fee and contingensies. (neither does it include catastrophies.) It also is figured on a basis that allows for covered walk ways and overhangs on buildings at one half the cost of inclosed buildings.

In our Lindo Park addition, or Project I, I find that the bare building costs were $22.02 per square foot. If the total costs were considered this square foot figure would come to $24.45.

In our Lakeside Union School, or Project II, I find that the bare building cost was $25.60 per square foot. The total cost per square foot was $27.75. This final figure also takes into consideration the fact that the old school was reconditioned, and this sum has been deducted from the total cost.

In our administration building, or Project III, I find that the bare building cost was $26.60 per square foot. The total cost in this case comes to $32.85 per square foot.

Other areas were also investigated in order to have some idea of what the rest of the county is doing as far as their school building costs are concerned. I found that the San Diego average is $13.00, Helix High

Mr. Smith, Mrs. Bliss, Sam Hamill, anybody and everybody who gave us information during our recent inquiry about where to locate new classrooms in our district:

We were two of a five member sub-committee of the Lakeside Citizens' Committee.

We were appointed by Tom Barkdull, following a suggestion made by Mr. Walker.

We were to investigate which site, Lakeside School or Lindo Park would be better for the six or seven classrooms we will build soon.

After a thorough inquiry, and taking into consideration our center of population, costs of maintenance, bus transportation, comparative size of auditorium and cafeteria facilities, and Welfare of the Children, we recommended that three classrooms be built at Lakeside School and three at Lindo Park.

This recommendation, apparently, was contrary to the wishes of the district superintendent.

He recommended to the trustees that all new classrooms be built at the Lindo Park site and they approved this plan. This means that all primary children from the entire district will soon attend this school, even though they may live next door to the Lakeside School.

We wrote a letter to the trustees say, in effect, that we had made a thorough study and honestly believed our recommendation to be worthy of their consideration, but that the decision was their responsibility. We listed sources of information in effort to show that we had made our inquiries of reliable people.

We did not quote any person. Some of the information we gathered was of a statistical nature, available to any citizen; some of it was highly confidential and the sources were not revealed.

This committee was appointed Jan. 26; our recommendation was made at a special meeting

C. of C. Hears Talk on Social Security; Plan to Take Over Memorial Bldg.

At the regular dinner meeting on Monday evening, May 11 in Kiwanis Hall, those present at the Chamber of Commerce enjoyed an evening well filled with things of interest. First on the program was a highly informative talk given by Mr. A. J. Kupiec, C .L. U., Manager of Calif.-Western States Life Ins. Co. He was introduced by his good friend "Buck" Rodgers. His topic Life Insurance and Social Security were interesting to everyone.

Dick Murray presided over the meeting. Bob Watkins reported that he had ordered a large trash container to be placed on sidewalk in front of his place of business for public use to help keep debris from littering Maine St. If this proves satisfactory, it is planned to secure more containers for use on Maine St.

Mr. Clarence Hupp of Public Parks Dept. was present and showed a master plan for Lindo Park and stated they have plans to improve this park to become one of the finest parks in San Diego County. He also commented on Cactus Park which the Chamber are interested in leasing. Stated that 40 acres would be available to the Chamber to lease as a concessionaire, also expressed his desire that a variety of cactus be planted on one portion of the land. He claims that the new entrance into Lindo Park on El Monte Road which is now being built should eliminate accidents on the so called "Death Curve." Also said that servicemen's accidents have become much less since the Navy has established a Shore Patrol along this particular road from El Monte Park through Lakeside.

Dick Murray announced that the Highway Dept. are now drawing plans to correct the poor drainage on North Maine St. and expects this to be completed before next winter's rain.

The Chamber of Commerce voted to accept the War Memorial Building from the Civic Corporation who now hold title to same. They also voted to give the Veterans the lower basement room as it is to be completed and use as they so desire. The following committee has been appointed to take charge of the management of the building: Mrs. Claude Weston, Messrs. F. Douglas Biggs, Clarie Pratt, Irvin Bole, Rowe Miller, Dick Murray. Negotiations are now under way to obtain legal title to building and it is the hope of the Chamber to complete this building for community purposes and get it on a paying basis.

Welfare Ass'n. Thanks Donors

Because your contributions during the Community Chest campaign came directly to us it has occurred to the directors of our organization that you might like to know a little more about the work of the Lakeside Welfare Association.

We are a Red Feather agency, as you know, and try to carry out on a local scale the character building work made possible by the Community Chest. We have made contributions to the Lakeside Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, our Youth Center, Little League Baseball, community Christmas party, Gem Club, and others.

In addition, our Family Emergency Committee (Mrs. V. K. Polk and Mrs. Joe Maloney) has established a clothing depot and distributed a large quantity of clothing.

The Family Emergency Committee operates on a limited budget, but with the cooperation of the community has been able to answer every appeal for aid. Clothing, furniture, and bedding are contributed and given out by the Committee where and when needed. Our cash is used carefully to buy such items as are not donated. Of course, all work of the committee is confidential. Incidents are not discussed except with those in a position to give aid and/or advise.

We appreciate your contribution and feel sure that you would approve the many projects being aided by the Lakeside Welfare Association.

All of the folks in the race for the positions of School Trustee in Lakeside are my friends, and I hope that they will all continue to think of me in the same manner. This is a political contest in the true American way, not an opportunity for vilification of one's opponents, which never does anything but make us ashamed later.

There has been much written about people and things in this campaign. Having been close to some of the matters discussed with seeming authority and at great length, I am reminded of the phrase in Pope's essay on Criticism.

"Words are like leaves; and where they most abound, Much fruit of sense beneath is rarely found."

I would like to remind the folks who initiated publicity of the personal issues that this is a campaign for the job of governing the education of the children of Lakeside. These kids are our most precious gift to the future of mankind. The example we set for them in all matters dealing with their education is of primary importance in the way they will be trained to make this a better world in which to live. I am thinking of the words of Moses Ballou - "Education commences at the mother's knee, and every word spoken within the hear say of little children tends towards the formation of character." These same children can, and do, read the newspapers!

It so happens that I went with these two ladies who have been the objects of much criticism to interview a highly respected businessman who had invited them to call at his office. He had information about affairs in our school dstrict that he felt should be known. He gave us facts and figures which are public property, if you know where to go to get them, and he expressed to us his personal opinion on a number of things that were highly unflattering to the governing of our school district.

It grieves me no end to have key people who gave this committee public information say that they did not give these two ladies any information, when it is there for any interested citizen to get if he so desires.

When you go to vote there is only you and your conscience in the booth. As you mark the ballot, do so for the candidates you honestly think will give our children the best education possible with the means available.

Yours truly,
Milton B. Parfet

STATEMENT TO LAKESIDE VOTERS:

The vocal clamor and reams of statements attending the election of trustees in the Lakeside School District would indicate a situation beyond the knowledge of the average citizen.

We who sponsor Edna Kouns and Hart Dunham have had relatively little to say because the issues are obvious, clear-cut and simple. A statement of these issues without a smoke screen to obscure them takes approximately 60 seconds in the telling.

1. The excessive cost per sq. ft. of our district buildings, some of which, in our opinion, are luxury items in themselves. Example: The Educaton Center.
2. Excessive cost of furniture involving the incumbrance of district funds over and above those allocated by the state for that purpose. District funds, incidently, which could have been used for the acquisition of sorely needed classrooms. Example: The "tin building" currently in use at Lakeside school.
3. The inflexible attitude of the administration after arriving at a decision. Example: The locaton of the projected six new classrooms at Lindo Park. It might be wagered that, were the decision put to vote of the people, it would be reversed. In the opinion of many in the community three classrooms at each school would have been more satisfactory and less expensive.

Those of our group who in the past have worked tirelessly for the schools and who have admired the aggressiveness of our administration now feel that aggressiveness has gone beyond the bounds of the reasonable. We recognize that we have a headstrong spirit working for us and that it is time we harnessed it. We are asking for no one's dismissal. We are asking for a situation in which the citizens and the board of trustees have the proper degree of control. For reason and common sense in the administration of affairs our school district. I am going to vote for the above.

CONFIDENCE
By Eileen Rogers

I have carefully studied many of the records of the Lakeside Union School District and have been and am secretary of the Citizens Advisory Committee. I know all members of the Board of Trustees personally, and I know Supt. Walker personally, and from that knowledge and that study I know that these people are intelligent, conscientious and have done the best job reasonably possible in the interests of the education of our children and also of our taxpayers. Many attacks and claims have been made and the only reason for all of these matters is personal antagonism of two or three people toward Supt. Walker and the Clerk of the Board, Mr. Linley.

These antagonisms have caused these people to stir up their friends to make similar charges, and the antagonisms were caused solely by jealousy, and yet all the people making these claims are willing to sacrifice the best interests and welfare of the children of the District to gain personal satisfaction of their antagonisms. These antagonisms should be disregarded ,and you are urged to vote on May 15th so that there be a clear-cut decision of the majority of the voters. C. Rupert Linley and Tom Barkdull stand for confidence in those who have done such good work in the past and are continuing their efforts. The other two candidates are two of those who have endeavored to cause lack of confidence, including Mr. Dunham, who now contends that many of the acts for which he voted were mistaken.

Many statements will no doubt be made in this issue by these discontented persons, either from a sense of jealousy or misguided friendship for the other two candidates. These charges should be considered in the light of this background and not otherwise, and I urge all voters to do so this Friday, May 15th.

A Girl for Bert Fosters

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Foster (nee Carol Bird) announce the birth of a third child, a daughter Suzanne born in Mercy Hospital, April 14 and weighed 6 lbs. 6 oz.

Bert who is stationed at Okinawa is anxiously waiting to return to his home in Lakeside where he will be reunited with his family.

The tourist trade at Jamaica, British West Indies, is estimated to be worth $6,000,000 annually.

LINLEY URGES ALL CITIZENS TO VOTE

Friday, May 15th, the day after this paper reaches you, is election day in Lakeside when all registered voters have an opportunity to decide the manner in which their schools will be operated, in deciding which two of the four candidates should be elected. For the first time in many years we have issues to be decided and a choice of candidates.

Myself and Tom Barkdull stand for a continuation of the progress in our educational system, of which we are all proud, and we are well pleased with the assistance given the Board by Supt. Walker.

The other two candidates are being backed by a group which expresses strong dissatisfaction with the conduct and growth of our schools in the recent past and dissatisfaction with Supt. Walker.

These are the issues: On the one side confidence and respect, and on the other lack of confidence and disrespect. Let me urge each voter to cast his vote, and in whichever way his conscience dictates.

THE REASON FOR ALL THE COMMOTION
By Rupert Linley

Everyone wonders why all the charge of inefficiency, waste and mismanagement are being made against our Board of Trustees and Superintendent, and wonders if maybe there is some truth to the various charges. All persons responsible for school operations involved, including Mr. Dunham who is a board member, have been reputable citizens, and there have been no complaints for years. Let's consider all statements published within the last few weeks; the first in point of time was a letter from Mr. Dunham to Mr. Walker charging miscellaneous misdeeds. The next dated document was a letter to the Board signed by Mrs. Kouns and Mrs. Polk, also complaining of many oversights and mismanagement. There is ample proof that the sentiments expressed in these two letters were given wide publicity by word of mouth. Mr. Dunham was President of the Board and otherwise a respected community leader; Mrs. Kouns and Mrs. Polk were P. T. A. leaders. They had many friends who carried the tales; the well-known human tendency to find fault came to the front and many other people happily hurled charges, all without knowledge of the causes and reasons for the actions so willingly complained

Alpine Report

Lillian Goulding, on vacation from her duties at Camelback Inn, Phoenix, is home in Alpine, which is welcome news to her many friends.

DANGER, EXPLOSIVE

That is how Fire Chief Sam Randazzo describes the fire situation in the entire Mountain Empire. With the lush growth of the rainy season now dried to a powdery tinder by the hot, dry winds of the Santa Anna of the past few days the area may explode into an unprecedented holocaust at any time. Keep your eyes open for bits of broken glass and shiny metal which may reflect the sun's rays and ignite the dry grasses.

There were 100 fires in the County on Sunday, keeping the State and Federal Fire Fighting Forces going at an exhausting pace for twenty-four hours.

On Tuesday morning a serious fire broke out in the neighborhood of the State Prison Camp, on Viejas Grade. The constantly shifting winds made it extremely dangerous to fight and efforts were concentrated in containing the blaze wthin the area till nightfall, when the winds died. Then a large force was thrown into the fight and the fire was soon controlled. The Prison Camp was saved by the fine work of the State and Federal Fire Fighting Forces. We can all help these men by watching our incinerators for faults, clearing the area around them for thirty feet, minimum, and clearing our premises of inflammables and reflective materials. KEEP THE CHILDREN IN THE HOME, NOT IN THE CEMETARY.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors, Al-Pine Youth Center Corp., an urgent appeal was voiced for help at the Center in order to complete the new building and pour the slab for the patio before the Alpine Mountain Carnival in June. Anyone who can give even two hours on Saturday or Sunday will be welcome. The Boy Scouts will send a delegation as an example to the other young people of Alpine. Also the Kiwanis Club will have several members on the job. So let's all dig in.

Saturday, May 9, will be the long-awaited moving day for the Alpine Elementary School. Supt. Frank Brown and School Board Chairman Gerfy Klipp will be in charge. These two men have done a remarkable job in rushing completion of the new plant. Gentlemen, we thank you. And a big WELL DONE.

Plans for the June Carnival are rapidly taking shape. The Board of Directors voted to cancel the proposed fish fry for Saturday and to have a Barbecue both Saturday and Sunday. Tables will be set up in a special area, away from other entertainment. There will be facilities for feeding two-hundred persons at one tme.

SICK CALL

The Dowdy family has been ill with the measles, first Linda, then Sue, George, Jr., followed by Mom and Pop. All recovering nicely.

Carl K. Barnes, Victoria Dr., is in Naval Hospital. His duties as treasurer of Kwanis Club of Alpine have been assumed by Kenneth Douglass. Marne Butterworth is down with the measles; also Ronnie Rooklidge, who was stricken after appearing in the play at the Women's Club meetnig. First adult bit by the bug was Patty Heyser, followed by Mrs. Roberg, of Midway Dr.

W. E. Homes, storekeeper, on Highway 80, is still incapacitated, but hopes to have his blood pressure back to normal in the near future.

Bill Hubbert is home for a week's visit with his mother, Ruth Hubbert, M. D. at the family home on Highway 80.

Dr. Hubbert recently spent a week-end at Davis where Bill is attending the university. Our busy M. D. drove to Davis with Mrs. Catherine Spencer of Samataguma Ranch; Sue Dowdy; Tommy Burrows and Bill Gobie.

The following members of the Grossmont Hospital Auxiliary of Alpine are planning to attend the Daley Ranch, Elizabeth Ball; Ruth Walker; Marne Butterworth; Jean Kern; and Marie Calson. They will also attend the "Country Fair" at Rathmoor, home of Mrs. Morath of El Cajon, on the 19th. Others interested in an enjoyable afternoon may contact one of the members mentioned above.

A most impressive Court of Honor was held on Tuesday evening by Alpine Troop 105, of Alpine. A solemn candlelight service each of twelve boys repeated a section of the Scout Law was one of the highlights. The newest members to join the Troop were duly inducted, these boys forming the recently organized Patrol, of Dehesa, formed by Jack Hanson, of Dehesa. Thirty-two boys were present at the Court, and the large number of parents attending shows the increasing interest being shown in the Troop by the fathers and mothers of the boys. Mike Valley was the hero of the evening, receiving his Tenderfoot and Second Class badges, as well as his Patrol Leader's Bars, after only two months concentrated study. Mike heads the new Dehesa Patrol.

Mike Fitzgerald received One Year's Perfect Attendance Pin; this being the second year Mike has been so honored. He was highly compilmented by L. K. Anderson, Institutional Representative, for his loyalty to the Troop.

The Court was presided over by Wm. A. Doerr, newly appointed Chairman of the Scout Troop Committee, assisted by George Mitchell, Scoutmaster and Otto Jehl, Asst. Scoutmaster and L. K. Anderson.

Also introduced to the parents were the new members of the Committee, Robt. Hughes; Jack Hanson; Robt. Kreyling.

Announcement of the Summer Camp, at Cuyamaca, for July was made by Mr. Anderson and an uregent appeal for full attendence was made.

A grass and brush fire at Hubner's Big Oak Ranch, on Monday noon, burned over 60 acres. Federal, State and Harbison Canyon Fire Depts. kept the fire away from buildings and no property damage was reported.

Supt. Frank Brown, Alpine School, received the following letter from Lewis F. Smith, Dist. Supt. Grossmont Union High School Dist. following the recent Bond Election:

Mr. Frank Brown, Dist. Supt.
Alpine School Dist.
Alpine, Calif.

Dear Mr. Brown:

May I express my appreciation to you for your fine support and cooperation in our recent bond election. Particularly in connection with arranging for appearaces before the Alpine Kiwanis Club and the Alpine P. T. A. The result was only too apparent in the fact that we received the most favorable vote in a bond issue we have ever received from the Alpine community. Perhaps this is an indication that some of the problems which have faced you are beginning to be alleviated and that any future bond issues which you may have will likewise find good support.

Please advise us if there is any way in which we can return the favor.

Dist. Supt.

KIWANIS CLUB NOTES

At the regular weekly dinner meeting Thursday evening Chairman Frank Brown presented Dr. Winward, associate superintendent of schools for San Diego County, who gave an interesting and informative talk on the problems facing school authorities in caring for the rapidly increasing school populaton in Calfornia. Dr. Winward said the increase in San Diego schools amounts to one new classroom per week, or rather the need of one. In Los Angeles the increase amounts to ne new twelve room school every Monday morning. Dr. Winward stated there is a need of 60,000 new teachers at the present time.

Paul M. McGuiness, Alpine instructor ,spoke of the physical education program in the Alpine School.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Directors was held on Friday evening at the home of John N. Vitalich, on Victoria Dr. Routine business was conducted, after which refreshments were served by the host.

A letter from Bill Bain, first president of Kiwanis Club of Alpine, now of Fair Grove, Missouri, tells how much he misses the lively meetings of the Alpine club. He longs for the animated gatherings of the Alpine Club. Bill's address is Rt 2, Fair Grove, Mo.

The Card Party at Dr. Ruth Hubbert's home on May 2, was a successful and enjoyable affair. Dr. Hubbert graciously opened her home and supplied the refreshments for the affair. Approximately $35.00 was realized for the Youth Center. Who will follow the good doctor's example and open their homes for this fine purpose?

At the Tuesday meeting of the Alpine Chamber of Commerce committees were appointed to study the opportunities for establishment of an independent bank in Alpine and the formation of a water district for Alpie.

'The Youth Speaks'

By J. C. La Suer

The Student Body of the 7th and 8th grades at El Cajon School are a busy lot this week campaigning for officers in the Student Council. The place is plastered with colorful posters for the various candidates.

Grossmont will have their new song and cheer leaders chosen by today. The cadets at Grossmont are beginning their drills for the final inspection. Friday is Hix Mix day there, too. Friday at 8 p. m. their music department is presenting "Show Boat" plus some extras to help finance the purchase of new band uniforms.

I hope each of you bought a balloon from a teen-ager last Saturday. This sale was to raise money for our new "Teen-ager Recreation Club."

We hear a lot about fire prevention but many of us think that it is meant for the other fellow. I wonder. Maybe, I am not as careful as I could be at all times. Are you?

Our neighborhood had quite a treat Saturday morning. One of our neighbors, a Lieut. in the Navy, brought a flying fish home. His wife was so kind she made sure all the children had an opportunity to see it. All day long she was kept busy getting the fish out of her refrigerator to show again. Even the grown-ups enjoyed seeing the fish. I bet that little ol' fish never dreamed how popular he would get when he hit the side of that ship.

A boy got in the family car to go for a ride. He reached for a coat, laying in the seat and drew his hand back screaming. It seems a tiny honeybee had decided he liked the coat, too. The ride was postponed until the bee-stinger could be pulled out and the hand given first-aid. Man, don't a bee sting hurt? Bees and summer time go together.

Last week's Guess Who was Jonah, remember how the big fish swallowed him? Today we are trying a scrambled puzzle. This boy was a distant relative to Queen Elizabeth II of England. He was a great General. He must not of liked cherries. His name "I sge Org Ewa Shin Gton." Now isn't this easy?

SAFE CONDUCT

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — No chances were taken by delegates to a seminar on traffic safety here. First they awarded Ralph W. Saffer of Rochester a pin for 14 years "continuous safe operation" of a bus. Then they let him drive them on a tour of the city in the bus.

Our engineers today have the know-how to produce a rocket engine having a power output equivalent to the combined electrical power output of all the industrial and utility companies in Michigan.

Sometimes We Surprise Us

It isn't easy to surprise a Californian any longer with facts concerning the glory and greatness of the Golden State.

The California refrain, in fact, is downright familiar. The biggest mountains, finest beaches, oldest trees, greatest per capita income, highest taxes (how did that get in here?), great agricultural income, high industrial productivity. Almost every Californian knows the score by heart.

The amazing thing, though, is that new material for ballads of the State's greatness constantly is being developed. The latest item is contained in a short sentence in a financial report just released by the Pacific Lighting Corporation: "At year's end, Pacific Lighting System served 1,739,651 active meters, the largest number of customers served by any gas system in the United States."

Now the single fact that California has the largest gas system in the United States would not be too surprising under ordinary circumstances. But Pacific Lighting serves customers in Southern California only. Northern California gets its gas from the P.G.&E., which serves the fourth largest number of customers of any gas system in the U. S.!

Is it any wonder that California continues to be amazing—even to Californians?

Green Light For State Parks

Robert E. Burns, president of the College of Pacific and a member o fthe State Park Commission, estimates that some 60 million dollars will be available to California during the next years for creation and maintenance of new State parks.

The funds will become available as a result of expected passage of legislation approved by the House and now before the Senate restoring control of the oil-rich tidelands to the States. Similar legislation passed in former years was vetoed by former President Truman, but President Eisenhowe rcampaigned for State control.

In the past, the bulk of royalties received by California from tidelands oil operations was used for beaches and parks. Each year since the attempted Federal "seizure," the royalties have been impounded and development of th State park system has suffered. The result, according to commissioner Burns, is that "our parks are wholly inadequate in view of our fantastic population growth."

It would be tragic if California ever became so ambitious for mere population growth that it failed to preserve its natural beauty and recreation areas in the rush. If tidelands oil royalties had been lost to the Federal government, some alternate means of revenue would have had to be provided for park development. Fortunately, the dispute is being resolved at last in California's favor.

WASHINGTON WINDOW

WHAT PRICE HOUSING?

There are forces at work in Washington right now deciding the price of the roof over your head. Congress is removing many controls and protections which the home owner and the tenant had enjoyed since World War II. They say that controls and federal aid interfere with the housing market.

Without these controls and aids, the supply of houses will largely set the price. A shortage will raise it and a good supply could reduce it.

The lower and middle income groups will be hardest hit. Those are the areas of greatest shortage. Luxury housing is plentiful.

At a time, when most other price, including construction materials, are dropping or leveling off ,the price on housing is likely to rise generally. Much of this is due to the recent 30% increase in interest rates on the last issue of government bonds by the Treasury Department. It will probably increase all interest rates, making home loans more costly. Below is a general survey of the housing field:

LOW-COST HOUSING ($6,000-$10,000) - Good, low-cost housing is still difficult to obtain. Builders find high-cost housing more profitable to build. Construction costs have leveled off near their all-time peak.

Federal Housing Administration and Veterans Administration home loans will become more costly when interest rates rise anywhere from ¼% to 1%. Small builders will leave the building industry as government support of FHA and VA loans is withdrawn.

MEDIUM and HIGH-COST HOUSING ($10,000 and up) - High-cost luxury housing continues to be plentiful. The supply of medium-cost housing is on the increase, but still short.

Loans up to $16,000 will continue to be insured by FHA but plan the interest rise. VA rate will be up, too. Average private lending rates were 4½%, now 5%, will soon be 5½%.

OLDER HOMES — The New York Journal of Commerce reports that average prices for older homes have dropped from 5% to 15% in the last year. It calls prices still "stratospheric compared with pre-war prices." Cost of increased interest on home purchase loans will lessen savings to prospective buyers.

PUBLIC HOUSING — In 1949 Congress authorized the building of 135,000 low-cost public housing units each year for lower income families. Congress cut this figure to 50,000 in 1951 and 35,000 in 1952.

This year the President asked for 35,000 units. The House refused to provide money for any new public housing starts. It is predicted, however, that the Senate may vote for the 35,000 units and the final compromised figure should be about 20,000 or 25,000.

Almost unnoticed is the fact that most of the 64,000 starts already contracted for will be completed. Still, public housing is steadily being pushed out of the picture.

SLUM CLEARANCE — Most low-cost and public housing construction is made possible through the federally assisted program of urban redevelopment and slum clearance. The House has voted to reduce these funds 28% to $1.5 million. The Senate is expected to restore some but not all of the cut. Slums won't be cleared rapidly!

RENTS — The 1950 census listed 19 million rental housing units in this country. During World War II tenants in 16 million units had rent and eviction protection. Last year it was 5½ million. Several cities and states have controls.

The new rent control bill just passed by Congress will end controls on 4.3 million ordinary defense housing units July 31. In theory, all critical defense rental housing controls will be continued until April 30, 1954. This covered 1.3 million units in 1952.

There is a "sleeper" in this act. Controls are removed from rental units either constructed or converted after February 1, 1947. The Office of Rent Stabilization says this will affect many of the 1.3 million units but it doesn't know exactly how many.

CAPITOL AND COUNTY News Letter

by RALPH R. CLOYED
ASSEMBLYMAN

The Senate Committee on Governmental Efficiency and Economy, generally tough on liquor legislation, heldup for one week, in a high-handed manner, a proposal separating liquor control from the State Board of Equalization.

The flareup came on Senator Cunningham's Constitutional Amendment which would have to be submitted to the voters and would place liquor control in an independent agency. The Committee had approved a companion measure to create a new state department, but after discussing the Constitutional Amendment. A number of newspaper men followed Cunningham from the Committee room for an interview, when Cunningham suddenly became aware that the motion only approved the new department and rushed back to the Committee, which, by this time, was considering other measures.

The Chairman informed Cunningham that they would not get to his Constitutional Amendment ;that they did not have the measure before them. Cunningham offered to get the bill and pointed out that it was listed first on the Daily File. The Chairman roared "No, we will run this Committee." Cunningham started to rave, threw his papers on the floor and strode from the room. Later he was promised that he would get a vote on his Constitutional Amendment next week.

The controversial adult education bill has been defeated by the Assembly Education Committee by a vote of 11 to 4, but maneuvers are possible which would still get these provisions to the Assembly. The author pointed out that important financial features already have been amanded into the school district apportionment bill.

Under a drivers training bill, violators of the Vehicle Code, such as reckless and drunk drivers, would help pay the cost of behind-the-wheel training by an increased fine from $1 to $20 for vehicle violators.

Minor Senate amendments to the fringe area bill will have to be concurred in by the Assembly and then go to Governor Warren. The bill allows Boards of Supervisors to create non-self governing urban districts to pay taxes for special services.

The Assembly Committee on Governmental Efficiency and Economy approved and sent to the Assembly, a measure by Assemblymen Luckel, Cloyed, Bulen, and others, designed to end secrecy among state agencies. It states in part that it is the intent of the law that the archives and records of public agencies be open for inspecion by the people. The people of the State do not yield their sovereignty to the agencies which serve them. The people, in delegating authority, do not give their public servants the right to decide what is good for the people to know and what s not good for them to know.

The Ways and Means Committee of the Assembly has approved a budget item for the California Highway Patrol amounting to $12,841,999 to achieve more adequate policing of the highways. Seventeen additional traffic sergeants and 163 additional traffic officers were approved; also 3 clerks and 15 dispatcher clerks to provide radio coverage in seven locations. The increase is for $1,421,815. The remainder of the increase is attributable to increased operating expenses incidental to expanded offices. Sixty-two new men would be for the southern region of the state.

Fate of a super-highway program was thrown into doubt when Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee refused to pass a bill calling for a 1c gas tax increase and 22% increase on other highway users tax. The author will attempt to withdraw the bill from the Committee by a floor vote.

The Senate Agriculture Committee declined to take a position providing market news service to Sacramento, Fresno, and San Diego.

Equal pay for women failed to receive committee approval by a 4 to 3 vote. The bill would have made it unlawful to discriminate against either sex when it came to pay.

Assembly Bill 835, which would prohibit the selling of yellow tail, was defeated on the Assembly floor. A notice to motion to reconsider has kept the bill alive.

TODAY'S GAG

NORFOLK, Va. — An oysterman showed up at the Social Security office and wanted to know how much he—as a self-employed citizen—owed the government. The clerk asked "What was your net income?" "Even a government man ought to know you don't take oysters with a net," the man replied.

SPARKS
from the News Circuit

By JAMES DORAIS

Fo nearly 20 years, there could be found scarcely a politician in the land be he Democrat or Republican, daring enough to speak a bad word publicly on the subject of Social Security. It was considered politically safer to be openly in favor of sin.

Today, however, a growing number of Congressmen are taking a long look at the old Coca Cola warehouse in Baltimore, the three other buildings there and the overflow building in Wilkesbarre, Pensylvania, where the wagerecords of the 45 million persons now covered by Social Security are stored, and asking: "What kind of a Frankenstein-monstrosity have we built?"

Today, Social Security no longer is regarded as a political sacred cow. Searching studies of its workings are underway on Capitol Hill, and plans for drastic revision of the plan are rife. Even a modified version of the old Townsend Plan, whereby every person at 65 would receive a minimum pension, either with or without a means test, is being seriously discussed a a substitute for the present creaky, increasingly criticized system.

There are three reasons for the disenchantment with Social Security, which former President Roosevelt lifted from the 19th Century bag of tricks of Germany's Iron Chancellor Otto Von Bismarck and sold to depression-minded Americans as a cornerstone of the "New" Deal.

First, the day of reckoning when Social Security outgo will vastly exceed income, and the cost of the program will have to be frankly financed out of sharply hiked current taxes, is looming disturbingly large on the horizon.

Second, the spectacular cost of administering the program with its millions of individual payroll cards and employer returns, is causing alarm.

Third reason—and most important, politically—is the rapidly growing public dissatisfaction wth inequities in the program.

Social Security was promoted as an "insurance" system. But insurance implies equal benefits for equal premiums, and such is not the case, millions of Americans are coming to learn, with Social Security.

For example, a person coming under the program a year or two before retirement age may receive the maximum benefits of $85 per month for the rest of his life—the same maximum amount received by a person who has contributed all his working lifetime.

Social Security discriminates against working wives in favor of non-working wives in favor of non-workng wives, against high salaried employees in favor of low salaried employees, and against wage earners in favor of the self-employed. In the case of retired people supplementing their meager benefits through other sources of income, Social Security withholds benefits from those engaged in certain, but not all, forms of employment. But no restrictions are placed on the benefits of those retired people fortunate enough to enjoy a good income clipping coupons.

The mail from the folks at home about Social Security used to be all good. But there's grousing in the grass roots now, and the Washington attitude is beginning to undergo a drastic change.

VIEW - POINT

By
Robert G. Kaplan, Ph.D.
Clinical Psychologist

Almost from the moment of birth we impose certain restrictions and demands upon the child. He is required to breathe, he did not have to bother with this function before. He enters a new world of odors. From his dark, cozy quiet home inside of this mother he is brought into a noisy brightly lighted world. His vision is poor and his experiences wth the objects he encounters are new. He is wrapped in lumpy garments which restrain his movements. Remember how he liked to kick during those last months? He is subjected to temperature changes which are new since his previous home varied only tenths of a degree.

He is required to work for his food now, all too often not the kind that nature intended for him, but a concoction of cow's milk and water, you might believe he is so small that he doesn't know the difference, but he does.

He has no means of communication other than crying and often his wants are not clear to his mother. He is not always hungry or wet. Sometimes he is just lonely. Remember, he was with you 24 hours a day for nine months and it is hard to get used to being alone. Your baby needs much physical love and closeness during his first few months of life, after that too, but the first few are the most crucial.

The most delightful time in the infant's development is around three months of age. The baby begins to respond socially, to smile and respond to your voice. This is the very beginning of the giving and taking we do in our social contacts with people.

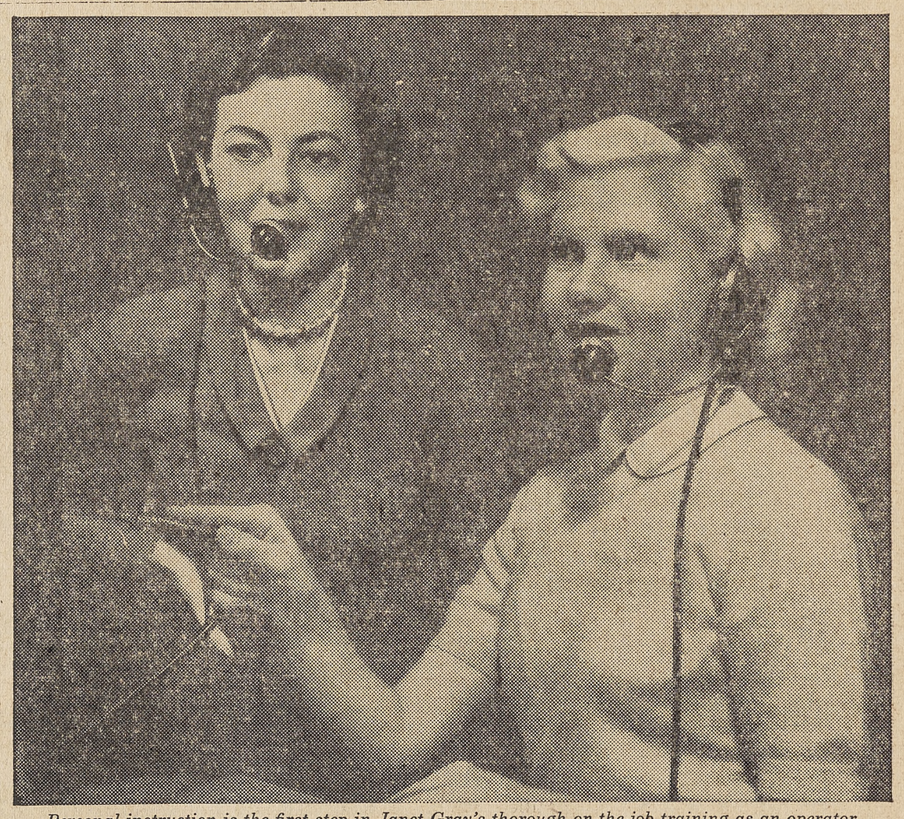
My little girl has just started smiling, I hope she means by this, that she is happy to be with you and she appreciates her mama and daddy. I am sure she does, your baby does also.

QUESTION: Dr. Kaplan my little boy wets the bed nearly every night, he is almost 7. We have made him wash his sheets, punished him, praised him for dry nights, tried some of these advertised patent medicines, nothing has worked. What do we do now?

Since bedwetting is always psychological and only rarely organic I question the use of patent medicines. I would take off the pressure and let the situation alone for a while. If the frequency of dry nights increases, you are on the right track, if not I would consult a specialist.

Dr. Kaplan will write on any question or problem relating to child behavior or family relationships. Write to him n care of this paper. If the inquiry is of a personal nature enclose a stamped self addressed envelope.

Today 58 per cent of Americ a's 45,000,000 households are homeowners, compared with 43.6 per cent in 1940, a newspaper survey has revealed.

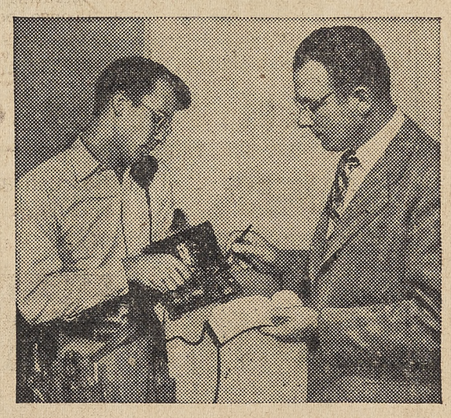


Personal instruction is the first step in Janet Gray's thorough on-the-job training as an operator.

JANET GRAY—NEW "VOICE WITH A SMILE"

Like many other young graduates, she'll soon be stepping into her telephone future

Janet Gray might be any of hundreds of young women—from high schools, colleges and commercial schools—who will start telephone careers in the coming weeks. For Janet and her new colleagues, it's a big event. They'll have many interesting types of jobs to choose from, they'll be paid full salaries while they learn their jobs. And they can count on frequent raises. For Janet, the opportunities to advance are excellent. Because women are important in our business...many hold management jobs.



Thousands of telephone people promoted last year

Last year, several thousand telephone men and women here in the Pacific West were promoted to better, more responsible jobs. Making sure we always have a well-trained force of men and women on the job is one more way we insure good telephone service for you.

YOUR TELEPHONE IS ONE OF TODAY'S BEST BARGAINS

Many young men, too, will be starting telephone careers in the next few months. Their skill and experience will grow through training and actual work on different telephone jobs. And, when qualified, they'll be eligible for promotion to more responsible positions. For it's tradition in our business to choose tomorrow's telephone executives from among the young men starting their telephone careers now.

Lakeside Nursery School

The Lakeside Nursery School is still in operation five mornings a week at the Community Church. Only a few weeks are left, however, before summer vacation. For those of you whose children will go to school in the fall, the Nursery School provides an excellent opportunity for children to begin to learn to be a part of a group. It could be an easy introduction to the more formal school awaiting them.

Younger children also profit from group experiences. It is not a worth while goal to want our children to be able to get along effectively with others? Such learning as begun very early in our lives, whether we plan it that way or not. It is one of the primary aims of this school to facilitate the adjustment of a child to his fellows and his world.

All About the Farm.

Mrs. Gideon's Second Graders, who are trying to learn all they can about a farm, have just completed their study of farm animals. Now, they are learning about products grown on the farm. The children are also very interested in their various science experiments.

More About the Farm

Mrs. Whitley's Second Graders have also been learning a great deal about farm animals. They already have discussed and read about dairy and beef cattle, including their food and uses.

Indian Puppets

Mrs. Hanson's Third Graders have been having lots of fun and incidentally learning more about Indian costumes and colors as they construct their Indian puppets. Everyone is enjoying the puppets — the children, the teacher, and the visitors. Six children have already finished theirs. In spite of the paste and cut paper to clean each time, the children will all tell you that it's worth it.

California Missions Studied.

Mr. Wolff's Fourth Graders who have been studying the Franciscan Missions of California, plan a visit to the Marston Memorial and San Diego Mission sometime in the near future.

Please Take Action

At the May 12th meeting of the Lakeside P. T. A. Mr. Walter McAdams, local businessman spoke to our theme: "Families Are Our Business" at the Lindo Park Multi-purpose Room. The regular business meeting was held as usual at 7:45 p. m. Mr. McAdams is author, lecturer and trainer in Salesmanship and Advertising. Mrs. R. E. Anderson presided.

Hostesses for the evening were Room Mothers from the 1st Grades.

Mrs. Ted Sherman and Mrs. Lyle Isom take this opportunity to thank everyone who made their trip to State P. T. A. Convention possible. From what we understand, their days were packed full of activity from the early breakfast (6:30 a. m.) through general sessions, conferences, luncheons, dinners and into evening meetings — then the comparing of notes with roommates before finally calling it a day. We know the delegates will be "reporting" Convention throughout the year, as they put into action all the information, inspiration and enthusiasm gained.

Members of the Executive Board are requested to have their procedure books in order, so that incoming chairmen will be off to a good start — starting with Spring Workshop Tuesday and Wednesday, May 26-27 at the First Presbyterian Church, 3rd and Date, San Diego. (Child care will be provided.)

Lakeside P. T. A. members will be happy to hear that our unit won fourth place — a gold ribbon award for the entry complied by Mrs. Elden Kemp, our Publicity Book Chairman.

It is also interesting to note that the Polio Foundation gave 9th District a plaque in recognition of exceptional work accomplished re: the March of Dimes. More than $48,000.000 was raised for this sum — of which our unit contributed approximately $92.00 by sponsoring the Dime Dance last January.

Well-Baby Clinic will be held as usual at the Scout-Hut on second Friday from 8:30 to 10:30 a. m. If you know of any preschooler needing this service, please call Mrs. Kennedy, H4-1298.

We were told to: Be careful in your judgements of what other people do — after all, a hobby is just something you go goofy over to keep from going nuts over things in general.

BEFORE THE FACT

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Jay William Roper paid a $25 fine for asking a uniformed policeman where he "could get some white whiskey so I can get drunk and tear up Depot Street."

JUNIOR RIDER NEWS

Frontier Junior Riders had an enjoyable Camp Fire Meetn last Friday with election of officers for coming year as follows: President Anna Meyers; Vice Pres., Ben Smith; Secretary, Betty White; Treasurer, Pat Edwards. This promises to be an interesting and efficient year with the club growing and developing such fine horsemanship.

May 15 — Another fun nite, won't you all join this group for more fun that you can ever imagine on horseback or foot. Juniors will meet at Frontier Ring in Cactus Park at 6:30 and ride (on hoof or wheels) to El Monte Park for a Wienie Roast.

We were mighty proud of those who showed at Convair on May 3. Jackie Jarvis taking 1 and 3rd in Quadrangle race and a 4th in bendin race and Ben Smith got a fourth.

Our Sec. Betty White is now working out some of E. Allen's mounts, while look'n around to find "just that rite one" for herself and the drill.

Welcome to the Junior corral are two new members, Judy Johnson and Wayne Kilbourn — more about these later and their hosses.

It was sech good news to hear our Frontier gal, Audrey Schiller who is in Hillside Hospital is improvng and ypspee-k-ya it won't be long before you'll be rid'n the trail agin — our best wishes Audrey are with you always.

So long podners, I'll be a-wait-in n' list'n fur the sound of more hoofbeats on the Frontier trails — rid'n on now to meet cha at the Frontier Corral on Sunday next.

Despite the present darkness of fear in the world, there is a lamp whose light is bright with Love.

Indeed for many, this light is the long-promised Comforter, Christian Science.

By sincere study of the Christian Science textbook many are finding, in a perfectly plain and practical way, the God who is divine Love.

Watch Those High Pressure Salesman

Home owners are urged to take five precautionary steps to avoid being victimized by the numerous home repair rackets now operating in this area, the Better Business Bureau has warned.

Salesmen using high-pressure tactics have been making unwarranted claims and offers to home owners, urging them to sign immediately "because it's the last chance."

"They often promise a 'special' or 'factory' price if the owner will allow his home to be used as a model to display the contractors product," according to Beecher Dixon, general manager of the Bureau. "Actually, the price they quote is far above the price legitimate contractors are charging for equivalent work and products."

To avoid being misled by false claims, B.B.B. suggests these precautions:

1. Take your time? Don't be rushed into any important home repair job. Before signing any contract, check the integrity of the contractor.

2. Buy the products and services on the basis of merit, not promises.

3. Be cautious of special prices and bonus offers. Before entering such an agreement, have a reputable contractor estimate the job to determine whether the quoted price actually is saving you money.

4. Read and understand the contract before you sign, and be sure you get a copy. Also make sure that sales claims made to you are set forth in the contract, including details of any guarantee offered.

5. When in doubt, see B.B.B. (38 Spreckels Bldg., San Diego), or call F. 6521.

Yellowtails Taken Off Long Beach

Prospects for good yellowtail fishing increased this week when anglers on two boats out of Long Beach hooked some. This was the first time this season yellowtails were taken in quantities from Long Beach waters, according to the Outing Bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Anglers from Newport, San Clemente and San Diego report yellowtail fishing fair to good during the week.

SERVING THE FASTEST GROWING AREA IN THE U.S.A.
ENCINA POWER PLANT
First unit now under construction
A REPORT TO OUR
380,000 Gas and Electric
CUSTOMERS
Number 2 of a Series

. . . as told in our 1952 Annual Report to 20,648 stockholders:

"This rapid growth has caused the Company to accelerate greatly its program of plant expansion. The additions are being made during a period of inflated costs, and the investment required to serve each new gas and electric customer is abnormally high.

"It follows that the establishment of new system peaks in either gas or electric sendout are determining factors in programs of plant expansion. The new peak load of 339,000 kw, occurring in December, fully justified the installation of Unit No. 4 at our Silver Gate electric generating plant and emphasized the importance of having Unit No. 1, at the Company's new Encina plant, in operation by the latter part of 1954

". . . It has been in part the stimulating effect of our low rates that has caused the increased use per customer which has permitted us to continue our pre-war electric rates, despite marked increase in the cost of labor, fuel, and materials. But at the same time our earnings must at all times be at such a level as to continue to attract the investing public to buy the securities that we must sell to keep pace with the utility requirements of a fast-growing community."

GENERATORS FOR GENERATIONS

DURING the last 15 years, our electric generating facilities, alone, have sky-rocketed from an investment of $7,600,000 to $32,400,000. To help meet the increasing electrical needs of this rapidly growing area, a new turbo-generator, with a capability of 66,000 kw, went into operation last fall at the Company's Silver Gate generating plant in San Diego. Its need had to be determined three years earlier—the average time required to build and install one of these huge machines and its auxiliaries—and it was indeed fortunate that the new generator was "on the line" in time to help meet a new system peak occurring last December.

In northern San Diego County, just south of Carlsbad, work is under way on the Company's new Encina generating plant. The first unit in this plant will have a capability of 100,000 kw, the largest yet to be installed in this area, and will be placed in operation next year. Eventually four such units will be installed at the Encina plant, each costing, at present prices, approximately $16,000,000.

Keeping abreast of the needs of America's fastest growing metropolitan area requires considerable planning and a sizable investment, yet the Company must abide by a traditionally sound, conservative approach, guarding against over-expansion. It is preparing, however, for a continued growth in all its various departments of customer service, and any time-lag between the date an application for either gas or electric service is made, and the date service is available, should become less and less as facilities are expanded and additional skilled workmen trained for the job.

It is our avowed intention to keep pace with customer growth, but should emergencies occur we will require and appreciate the patience and understanding of our customers.

me, to our support and appreciation.

Misleading information, however, by self-proclaimed "rabble rousers" and other misinformed persons, on the building program and other school matter, is apparently intended to destroy confidence in our present Board and management. In proof of this, attention is called to the letters of Messrs Smith and Hughes and Mrs. Bliss previously published.

Undoubtedly charges will be published at the last moment, and intentionally so, which will allow no opportunity for answers. These charges should be viewed with extreme suspicion for that reason.

It is also interesting to note that the minutes of past School Board meetings show that Mr. Dunham, as a Board member, has voted in favor of, initiated or seconded every resolution pertaining to these past building programs, including the resolution to send Supt. Walker to Sacramento to obtain additional allocation of funds to meet increased costs of construction. Mr. Dunham is one of those who now complain of excessive costs and of uch trips.

The time has come, I think, for citizens who know the facts to end the needless dissension which is being deliberately created in our community by this self-seeking minority.

I wish to again urge every qualified voter in this District to support our school policies by gong to the polls on Friday and voting for the candidates supported by all members of our School Board.

Relate Tall Stories At Sports Club

The next meeting of the Lakeside Sportsmans Club will be May 15, Friday, at the Scout Hut in Lindo Park. Films will be shown on Alaskan salmon fishing and Alaskan big game hunting.

Members are asked to invite their wives and friends to come. Refreshments will be served after films. This will not be a business meeting.

Cecil Carender one of our biggest "Sportsman" caught the biggest bass ever taken in Morena Lake on May 6.

Charlie Trammel has been bragging about catching fifteen trout in Pine creek the same day. He went so far as to say they were over fourteen inches.

than his great generosity with the public funds, his conduct is probably not too different from the average public official who gets off the leash of proper restraint.

In the hope of getting some reorganization of our Board of Trustees leading to some re-imposition of restraint in the matter of unnecessary squandering of public funds, I am going to ask my friends, in the event I have any, to support the candidacy of Edna Kouns and Hart Dunham ,then when we get to be doddering old men and women, watching our grandchildren scurrying around trying to pay off the debts we imposed upon them, we can salve our conscience with the thought that we tried anyway!

School $17.00, Mission Bay High School $12.80 per square foot.

I have talked with a board member of the Solana Beach School and Raymond Jung, the architect who designed it. I also went to see this building and find that the three class rooms, offices and teacher's lounge were recently completed at a cost of $9.30 per square foot. Mr. Jung has a project on the way at present in Escondido which is being built by the same contractor who built the Lakeside School. It is being built for $8.75 per square foot.

The above figures on Projects I, II, III were arrived at from blue prints on file at the Civic Center and from cost figures on file in our district office.

I agree with our school administration that the Lakeside children are entitled to as good facilities (or better) as any other district, impoverished or not. Surely this does not call for spending two or three times higher than our neighbors.

Sincerely yours,
Jerry L. Helminen

Grossmont Board Sets Calendar for 1953-54

School will begin on September 14 and end June 17 next year according to a proposed calendar adopted by the Grossmont Board of Trustees Monday night. The school year will extend over a period of 292 days counting the special institute sessions, work days, legal holidays and vacation periods. Teaching days number 177, which provide the same number of days for pupils as in recent years.

The proposed calendar is patterned closely after the San Diego City Schools Calendar. The calendar is subject to such revision as may be needed to coordinate with the elementary schools in the high school district.

Good Production Practices Essential

To lay satisfactorily, pullets must consume sufficient feed for good body development by the time they reach sexual maturity. The question is whether to grow out pullets during the growing period or when they should be producing eggs. If an adequate ration is used during the growing period, the pullet is forced to mature on laying mash which means profitable egg production starts much later when egg prices are usually lower.

A good pullet growing program using a ration containing ample proteins, vitamins and minerals enables the pullets to get body development early and lay lots of eggs during the months of high egg prices. Another important point is that it takes less feed to mature a pullet when properly fed on a well-balanced growing ration because the most efficient growth is made when the bird is young.

of the Citizens' Committee Feb. 23. As far as we are concerned it has been a closed issue since the board made its decision March 11.

We cannot understand why any person who gave us facts or figures that are admittedly public property is suddenly "afraid" of being involved in our troubles. Have they been persuaded to write these letters?

We repeat: We expressed our own opinions. We feel that, as citizens in a free country, we have that right.

Our recommendation was made to the board of trustees. Our letter was addressed to them and was published without asking our consent, which we have been told is illegal. It has been publicly misinterpeted and mis quoted which is unethical. Publicity detrimental to our community has resulted, which is unfortunate, and which we feel is a deliberate effort to "smoke screen" the real issue.

Does a citizen haev the right to question or express an opinion about school affairs?

Your vote is important. The trustees' election is tomorrow, Friday, May 15. Polls at Lakeside School bus garage, open from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m. against. Many such charges will no doubt be published in this issue; there is a valid answer for each.

What's back of it all? Mr. Dunham had voted in favor of, initiated or seconded every resolution pertaining to the past building programs and other matters regarding which he now complains. Mrs. Kouns and Mrs. Polk worked hard and willingly in aiding to carry out the necessary details of these programs, and now express dissatisfaction with them.

Here's the answer. Mr. Walker and three members of the Board disagreed with Mr. Dunham over the election issue of Proposition 2 last November; Dunham's position was defeated at the polls, although he made several vehement speeches in support of his position. Mr. Walker and four members of the Board disagreed with Mrs. Kouns, Mrs. Polk and Mr. Dunham over a recent issue: that of the placement of several contemplated new classrooms. Those are the only reasons for all the present commotion.

Can you, the voters, conscientiously assist these complainants in "spanking" Supt. Walker, myself and the other three respected board members for daring to disagree with these powerful three persons?

A vote for candidates Dunham or Mrs. Kouns will assist in this chastising; a vote for myself or candidate Barkdull will express confidence in the actions of our Board and Superintendent.

Rupert Linley.
